Child Labor Guidelines

Child laborers are treated badly. What rules should be set up to make sure they work under fair conditions?

Project: Develop guidelines for people who hire young workers.

Procedure1. Brainstorm ideas.

List ideas about child labor rules that should be set up. Jot down your answers to each of these questions:

- How old should kids be to work?
- What types of work should they do and not do?
- How many hours per day should they work?
- How much money should they be paid? Is it okay to pay them less than adults?

Feel free to add other ideas of your own.

2. Write a draft.

Organize your ideas on paper. Write a short introduction. Then list each of your guidelines.

- Show it to a friend. Does he or she have any additional suggestions?

3. Present your guidelines.

Write the final draft of your guidelines. Be sure to include a title. Display your guidelines in the classroom.
