

Workshop 8: Crime, Punishment . . . and Teens

Reading 2 Project: Leaving Crime Behind

Anthony's Journey

A lot of things can happen on the journey from gang leader to youth counselor.

Project: Make a flow chart that shows Anthony's transition from gang leader to youth counselor.

Procedure

1. Reread and take notes.

Review "Leaving Crime Behind" on pages 190–192 of your rBook. Take notes on the major events in Anthony's life. Pick at least five.

2. Draft.

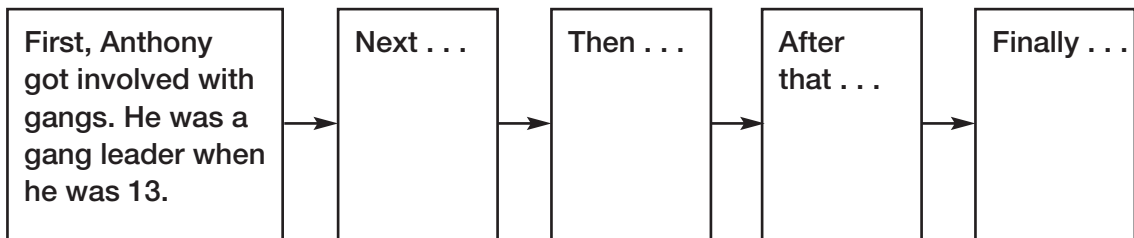

Write one or two sentences for each of the key events. Follow this example:

Event: Anthony got involved with gangs. He was a gang leader when he was 13.

Then put your sentences in sequence.

3. Make the flowchart.

Write your sentences in different boxes of a flowchart. Here's an example:

Use as many boxes as you need.

4. Present your work.

Add a title to your flow chart. Then post it and share it with others.
