

Workshop 9: No Small HeroQuick Project*Anti-Racism Poster

It's important to speak out against racism whenever—and however—you can.

Project: Make a poster that helps fight racism.

Procedure1. Brainstorm ideas.

Think of a slogan that speaks out against racism. A slogan is a short phrase or sentence that tells a principle or goal. An example is “Racism hurts.” What type of message will your slogan present?

- Will you tell what’s wrong with racism?
- Will you give a positive message about how people should act toward one another?

2. Write.

Will your slogan be short or long? Will you use rhyming words? Write a few drafts of your slogan. Keep revising until your slogan says what you want it to say. Remember, it should be catchy.

3. Make a poster.

Copy your slogan on poster board. Use your best handwriting. Use markers to make the words stand out. Add a drawing if you want, or a photo printed from the Internet.

4. Present your work.

Display your poster in the classroom or hallway.
