Scholastic Phonics Inventory (SPI) is a breakthrough tool for assessing foundational reading skills for students in Grades 3–12+.

Research indicates that many older struggling readers lack fundamental word reading skills. For those students and their teachers, this computer-based assessment provides:

- Accurate, validated measures of decoding and sight word fluency.
- Fast and scalable assessments that take about 10 minutes and hundreds of students can be assessed simultaneously.
- An efficient and cost-effective tool.
- Alignment to the Response to Intervention Framework.

Validated against the Test of Reading Efficiency (TOWRE) and the Woodcock–Johnson II Word Attack subtest, Scholastic Phonics Inventory provides similar reliable results—but in only 10 minutes.

An accurate and highly validated measure of decoding skills and sight-word reading fluency, Scholastic Phonics Inventory can help you ensure that the right students are aligned with the right reading intervention.
