TO PARTICIPATE IN THE CHALLENGE

Scholastic, together with Reading Is Fundamental (RIF) and the National Summer Learning Association, is challenging kids to Read for the World Record in order to help maintain vital reading skills over the summer months! On behalf of all the readers participating in the Summer Challenge, Scholastic will donate 50,000 books to kids in need through Reading Is Fundamental.

THE SCHOLASTIC SUMMER CHALLENGE

WHAT IS IT?

- A summer literacy campaign designed to motivate all children to read four or more books to maintain and improve their academic skills during the summer months
- An interactive online community for kids and parents to find great books to read and share the reading fun with friends

HOW TO GET INVOLVED:

- Logon to www.scholastic.com/summer
- Register you and your school
- Encourage your students to choose the books they want to read
- Log your minutes
- Schools that log the most minutes read will be published in the 2011 SCHOLASTIC BOOK OF WORLD RECORDS

WHAT TO CHECK OUT:

- Live kickoff webcast - April 30, 2010, 1 P.M. EST at www.scholastic.com/summer
- Age-appropriate book lists
- Curriculum ideas
- Games and trivia
- Author interviews and book talks
- Expert literacy advice
- Summer kits and free downloadables
- Special offers
- Resources for Spanish-language readers

Summer is the season of memorable vacations, fun with friends, relaxation...and declining reading skills. Research shows that students typically score lower on reading tests at the end of the summer than they do at the beginning. The good news is that this “summer slide” can be prevented by reading four or more books during the summer months.

Every book in Scholastic’s new hi-lo, fiction, and nonfiction packs comes with a title-specific activity sheet. Perfect for summer reading!
