Dear Dalton

In the story “Buried Alive,” you read about Dalton Anderson. Dalton’s knowledge and quick thinking may have saved his friends’ lives when they were caught in an avalanche.

Fill in the lines below to write a letter to Dalton.

_________________________  today’s date
_________________________
_________________________
_________________________
_________________________

Dear Dalton,

I read about you in Scholastic Action, a magazine my class reads. You were mentioned in an article about avalanches. I am _____ years old, and I am in _______ grade. To me, the scariest thing about avalanches is ______________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________.

I was impressed to read that you ______________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________.

One question I have for you is: _______________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

Thanks for reading my letter! I wish you all the best.

Sincerely,

__________________________________________

To send your letter, place it in an envelope and address it to:
Dalton Anderson
c/o Scholastic Action Magazine
557 Broadway, 4th Floor
New York, NY 10012