You Be the Editor!

Pretend that a presidential candidate is making a speech at your school. You have been chosen to edit the speech and you find 12 mistakes in either punctuation, capitalization, or spelling. Draw a line through each mistake in the paragraph. Then, write the correction above it.

EXAMPLE: ~~T~~ the last day of school is in ~~J~~une~~?~~"

Good morning! It is a pleasure to be at your School today.

As you know, i am running in an election. I want people to vote for me to be the next President of the united states.

Even though you can't vote yet, I want to here what you have to say? that's because I no that kids have concerns too. If i am elected, I plan two work hard at keeping hour country safe. healthy, and happy. I may not be able to get your teacher to give you less homework,

but I will do my best to get you more gym time,
