

Name: _____

Main Ideas and Details

Most stories have a main idea and supporting details. In articles that are divided into sections, each section also has a main idea and supporting details. In this week's issue, the story about woolly mammoths is divided into three sections that follow the introductory section, which contains the main idea of the story. Each of the three sections has a subheading.

In the space directly below, write the main idea of the entire story. In the spaces farther down the page, write the main idea of each section, as well as details within each section that support each main idea.

The main idea of the cover story

_____
_____
_____
_____

The main idea of the section called "Mammoth Life"

_____
_____
_____

The main idea of the section called "Lots to Learn"

_____
_____
_____

The main idea of the section called "Bring Them Back?"

_____
_____
_____

Supporting details for this main idea

_____
_____
_____

Supporting details for this main idea

_____
_____
_____

Supporting details for this main idea

_____
_____
_____