Think It Through

Use the stories in this week's issue of Scholastic News to answer the questions below. Write your answers on the lines provided.

1. Why do you think scientists want to create planes that run on solar power? How might this be helpful to the environment?

2. Scientists recently found a 35,000-year-old flute in Germany. What do you think we can learn by studying materials used by people of the past?

3. What part of the U.S. Constitution do you find the most interesting?

4. Why do you think the Founding Fathers wanted to divide power between the federal (national) government and the 50 states? How do you think our country might be different if only the national government had the right to make and enforce laws?

5. From September 15 to October 15, the U.S. celebrates Hispanic Heritage Month. Why do you think it's important to honor different cultures and heritages?
