Extend the high-quality instruction that occurs throughout the academic year with summer learning opportunities.

The summer months are a pivotal time to continue students' learning, advance their reading skills, and narrow the cumulative achievement gap between children with means and those without.

Three Ways to Stop the Summer Reading Slide with Scholastic's My Books Summer

1 Provide Access to Books

My Books Summer offers students fiction and nonfiction book packs along with activities that reinforce key learning skills during the summer months.

2 Adapt to Reading Abilities and Interests

With My Books Summer, educators can choose books that best meet their students' needs by providing packs aligned to reading/grade levels or by letting students choose what they want to read.

3 Engage Families

My Books Summer gives educators and families the resources they'll need to boost the literacy skills of all children while they're outside of the classroom.

Build and Sustain Family-School Partnerships During the Summer

It's essential to foster collaboration between educators and families, especially during the summer months. My Books Summer provides family engagement resources that create sustainable and effective family-school partnerships focused on boosting students' academic achievement.

My Books Summer Alignment to the U.S. Department of Education's Dual Capacity-Building Framework for Family-School Partnerships

- Grade-specific resources linked to learning provide opportunities for families to support their children's literacy development over the summer.
- Easy-to-use tools build families, and school staff's capability and confidence to actively engage in children's learning during the summer months.
- Relational learning communities of trust and respect are formed between educators and families that extend into the school year.

Summer Reading in Action

Abundant Access to Books During the Summer Months

Title I Director Dr. Kelli Cedo is passionate about providing every student from a low-income family in her district with abundant access to books all summer long and throughout the school year as well. Working in partnership with Scholastic’s Family and Community Engagement (FACE) team, Cedo implemented a three-pronged approach to filling the homes of her Title I students with books. Drawing from three decades of convincing research, she sees this as the best way to boost students’ reading proficiency, increase their engagement with books, and prevent the summer reading slide.

Cedo and her team work to ensure that all Title I students:

- Have access to books of their choice throughout the summer months
- Build a home library through a quarterly book distribution program
- Participate in their first book distribution when they register for kindergarten

Striking Outcomes:

- 73% of the Title I students who had access to books across the school year and throughout the summer months did not lose academic progress over the summer.
- 69% of the Title I students who participated in the summer reading program were reading on grade level based on Developmental Reading Assessment (DRA) scores.
- Each student received an average of 12 books a year—that’s at least 72 books by the fifth grade!

In Their Own Words

“Children take pride in things that belong to them. The summer reading program builds on that pride by placing books into the hands of children who then take pride in reading to find out what is inside their books.” —Irving Beard, Title I Principal

“This program is a wonderful way to encourage parental involvement while bringing families together through books.”

—Wendi West, Reading Specialist

“My husband and I truly, from the bottom of our hearts, appreciate having the home library and recognize the role it plays in furthering our children’s education.” —Chelyse Miller, Parent

How It Works

My Books Summer is a series of high-interest Take-Home Packs for grades PreK to 12 that keep children reading when the school year ends. Our Take-Home Packs reflect the interest and reading levels of each student and equip them with engaging books along with Think Sheets and a writing journal to ensure that they stay on track for success.

What It Includes

Each My Books Summer Take-Home Pack includes:

Engaging Books

Five or ten engaging books featuring fiction, informational, and specialty themes such as STEM

Grade 2 Health & Wellness Theme Books

Grade 3-5 Journal

Summer Reading Journal

Summer Reading Journal for students to record text-based responses and rate books they've read

Journals are available for grades PreK-K, 1-2, 3-5, and 6-12.

Tips for Families

Easy to implement tips in every journal that give families the opportunity to support their children's reading progress

Grade 2 Think Sheet

Think Sheets

Think Sheets for every title to reinforce reading comprehension and writing skills

Program Guide

A user-friendly administrator guide with everything you'll need to effectively plan a summer reading take-home program, including implementation strategies, ideas for family engagement, informal assessment tools, and thematic distribution resources

Shared Accountability and Tracking Are Essential to Stopping the Summer Reading Slide

Administrators Measure Performance with Data-Driven Results

Scholastic TrackIt! can help administrators gear up for the fall term by measuring summer reading achievement by district, schools, and student levels.

provides the entire community—administrators, teachers, students, and parents—with a central location for recording, storing, and reporting student reading progress all summer long. This online program helps everyone be accountable for student success!

Teachers Keep Up the Momentum

Scholastic TrackIt! is an invaluable tool that gives teachers access to their students' reading progress during the summer while engaging with them and their families and helping with the spring-to-fall transition.

Highlights

- TrackIt! allows students to record the books and/or number of pages they've read and the time spent reading them to track their progress toward reading goals.
- TrackIt! provides administrator-to-district, teacher-to-parents, and teacher-to-students message boards as well as an ongoing report on students' reading progress.
- TrackIt! generates reports that make it easy for teachers to keep records of class- and student-specific literacy progress, books read, text complexity of books read (where available), and time spent reading.
- TrackIt! lets administrators access student-, class-, and school-specific records of reading progress as well as student reading reports.

Students Are Immersed in Their Reading Goals

As students develop and maintain their independent reading habits, it's essential that they track their reading progress and engage with their goals.

Parents Support Student Performance

Parents can play a critical role in supporting their children's reading efforts and driving their reading success.

My Books Summer offers various customization options to help you meet the unique requirements of your school, district, program, or community.

Custom Book Selection

Whether your district, school, or organization is focused on specific reading levels (DRA, Lexile, or GRL) or has a STEM, fine arts, or career exploration focus, Scholastic can help you build custom book packs. You choose the parameters, and one of our Scholastic specialists will work with you to create book packs that meet your needs.*

Customized Letters to Families and Communities

Let your families and community know how valuable summer reading is to student success and what your organization is doing to help this effort. Scholastic will partner with you to publish a personal message to include in every student's book pack.

Price: $1.00 per student

* A minimum of 60 days is required to fulfill custom book orders.

 Must serve at least 2,500 students or more.

Custom Options and Additional Resources

Contact a Scholastic summer reading specialist to build your custom program at 800-387-1437 ext. 6333.

Summer Backpacks and Custom Packaging

We have summer reading backpacks! We can make customized book bags, backpacks, or other specialized packaging with your school or organization's logo.

Backpack price: starting at $4.99 per student

To get your custom packaging price, contact a summer reading specialist at 800-387-1437 ext. 6333.

You must purchase at least $500 in take-home books. Organizations spending $50,000 or more will receive bags at $3.99 per student.

Student Choice—On Site

Host a book distribution event where students can choose from more than 300 age- and reading level-appropriate titles. Your summer reading program coordinator can pick which books to ship to the event from a preselected list, or students can pick the books themselves.

Student Choice—Online

Students can choose from more than 300 age- and reading level-appropriate titles, including a wide range of fiction, nonfiction, and STEM-aligned titles. Teachers can help students choose their own books. Once the selections have been entered, teachers can compile the order and submit it to a school or district coordinator.

A child who comes from a home with just 20 books will, on average, complete two more years of school than would a child from a home without any books at all.

BECOMING A MEMBER IS FAST, EASY, AND FREE!

GIVE THE GIFT OF LITERACY ALL YEAR LONG!

There are many opportunities throughout the year to provide children with quality books and resources that build text-rich environments.

Scholastic FACE—Family and Community Engagement—is committed to reaching out to every caring adult to ensure effective and sustainable literacy support for all children, whether in school, in the community, or in the home. Through Bring Literacy Home, Scholastic will subsidize all books purchased for student ownership by 55–80% and ship them for free.

Scholastic FACE also offers additional programming in support of student literacy, including:

- Summer Reading Programs
- Family Literacy Workshops
- Board Books with Family Reading Tips
- Community Mentoring programs
- Expanded Learning Solutions
- Professional Development

The Scholastic Summer Reading Challenge is a global campaign dedicated to stopping the “summer slide,” getting kids to read more books, and championing parent and teacher involvement to help motivate kids.

For the summer of 2015, Scholastic is challenging kids to Read for the World Record and keep reading and learning all summer long. The Scholastic Summer Challenge, which launches on May 5, is a global summer reading program with a robust online community for kids, parents, librarians, and educators—and it’s all FREE.

In addition to logging minutes read for the Scholastic World Record, kids can:

- engage in fun activities related to books and reading
- track their minutes all summer on the virtual reading map
- earn virtual rewards by meeting weekly reading goals
- chat with fellow readers on the message boards
- participate in fun sweepstakes!

In 2014, Scholastic inspired more than 1.3 million kids from 12,770 schools in 29 countries to set a new record for summer reading—more than 304 million minutes!

Purchase My Books Summer take-home packs today so your students can participate!

New World Record for Summer Reading:

304,749,681 minutes read

(2013 record 176,438,473)

Number of participating schools: 12,770

Total number of students who logged reading minutes: 1,310,163

All 50 states in the U.S. participated.

29 countries participated.

Log on this spring to join the challenge and the fun!
