

Ashley Kaczanowski

Implementation Manager, Scholastic Achievement Partners

Ashley can help you with:

- Raising student achievement to meet the new standards
- Implementation fidelity
- Instructional coaching to build effective teaching practices

Ashley Kaczanowski is dedicated to ensuring quality education for all students. As an Implementation Manager for Michigan and Northeast Ohio, Ashley manages a talented team of consultants who partner with school districts in creating sustainable plans for school improvement. As a former teacher, Ashley knows that it's important for teachers to have tailored support in order to truly meet the needs of struggling students. She works one-on-one with educators to produce a customized plans that incorporate the best of all interventions strategies and resources.

Ashley began in the field as a higher-education admissions counselor with the University of Phoenix, where she helped numerous students enroll in bachelor's and master's degree programs. In this position, Ashley first realized the joy of educating students. Soon after, she began her career as a fourth-grade teacher at Cherokee Elementary School in Clinton Township, Michigan, where she worked with a diverse group of students and successfully devised creative and engaging lessons. Passionate about her job but wanting to reach other struggling students on a larger scale, Ashley joined Scholastic as an Implementation Manager and continues to volunteer her time as a substitute teacher for various elementary schools.

Ashley holds a master of arts in Education from the University of Phoenix and a bachelor of science in Sociology with a concentration in Criminal Justice from Central Michigan University.
