The Reading Pledge

- I pledge to have respect for myself, for others and for the power of books.
- I am proud and excited to be part of the Scholastic Read For 2005 community.
- I will make books a part of my life.
- I will read them to grow.
- I will read them to learn more about myself and about other people.
- I will share the things that I learn from books with others.
- I pledge to be a reader now and forever.
